E. O. HALL & SON, LTD.

Notwithstanding the fact that we are receiving new goods by nearly every steamer and vessel arriving from the States and from England, we do sometimes get out of certain lines of goods that are much needed. We want our inquiring friends to know that we have just received probably the finest assortment of Dog Collars and Padlocks ever offered here. In one lot we had over SIXTY DOZEN, of all sizes and kinds. We can fit the largest watch dog or the smallest Japanese pug.

Those friends who have asked so many times for Razor Strops will be glad to know that we have just received a new supply of the celebrated

Reppenhagen Razor Strops. We have several other kinds, all good. Our assortment of Razors is full, having just received a new lot.

We receive fresh Ammunition every month, and can supply all kinds needed. Rifles, Shot Guns and Revolvers always on hand.

That new lot of Score Books has just arrived. Also a fresh lot of Cottage Paints,

Enamel Paints, Varnishes, Oils and Brushes of all kinds. We have sold thousands of feet of

Rubber Garden Hose lately and expect soon another large lot running from 1/2 inch to 12 inches. Also steam hose. The demand for Galvanized Water Pipe is constant and we keep on hand all sizes from 1/2 inch to 2 inches and sell it cheap.

If there is anything in our line that you want, just call for it, if you cannot see it. You will always find us at

HALL'S CORNER.

HE DID NOT CARE.

The Controversy Made Him Weary in View of the Absorbing Topic.

"Oh, that this too, too solid flesh would melt," quoted the fat man as he sat fanning himself and perspiring. "You quote Bacon, I notice," said the lean man in reply.

"No, sir. I quote Shakespeare."

"But, of course, you know that the plays attributed to Shakespeare were written by Bacon."

"No," replied the fat man, shaking his head. "I don't know anything of the kind."

"But the proof is indisputable. Bacon ran a cipher through the plays, which has been discovered and which clearly reveals his authorship."

"I don't believe it, but even if it were true that Bacon wrote Shakespeare's plays I wouldn't care a continental about it. Their authorship doesn't trouble me in the slightest."

"But surely you are concerned in having the credit of those masterpieces of English composition go to whom it is due?"

"I don't know that I am. Is there any money in it?"

"Money in it? What do you mean?"

"Are Bacon's heirs trying to establish their claim so that they can collect a lot of back copy right or anything of that kind?"

"Of course not. Money doesn't enter into the question at all."

"And nobody will be a bit better off if Bacon's claims are established?"

"Not an iota."

"Then, my friend, I fail to see what all the fuss is about. The controversy makes me tired. You didn't happen to hear how the baseball score stood as you came along, I suppose?"

"I have heard so."

"Well, lady, I took up snow shovelin as a profession, and I studied it as practiced it, and so I knowed all the fine points of it. An hour I am in the middle of a warm wave with my occupation gone."

"A steady glitter came into her eyes. 'I know you now. You were here last winter.'"

"Was I?"

"Yes. And you told the same story, only then you said you were a professional grass cutter."—Washington Star.

Worked Both Ways.

"Lady," he said, "I'm in hard luck. I've been misled by the signs of the times, and I'm compelled to weaken an ask for assistance."

"Have you ever tried working?"

"Yes'm. The trouble is that I went at it too systematic. The spirit of the age is for a man to qualify himself for some particular line of usefulness. Versatility has wrecked some of the best of us."

"I have heard so."

"Well, lady, I took up snow shovelin as a profession, and I studied it as practiced it, and so I knowed all the fine points of it. An hour I am in the middle of a warm wave with my occupation gone."

A Wise Bride.

"Have you considered the future, with its great responsibilities?" asked the solemn friend.

"No," said the young bride. "You see, papa made us a present of a house."

"Yes."

"And, of course, we are living in the present."

The only recourse left to the solemn person was a snort.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

On a Florida River.

"Say, boss, hab yo' tuk notice er dat yaller gator?"

"I have indeed."

"An hab yo' notice de size er de mouf he kyar croun wid 'im?"

"Certainly."

An Era of Sore Throats.

"It is mighty inspiring to think of all the oratory which a period of national excitement like the present produces," said the man who was waiting for his train.

"That's right. Every time I think of it I'm tickled nearly to death."

"Are you interested in politics?"

"No. I sell cough drops."—Washington Star.

Delights of the Chase.

"I've missed more fun this summer than you could shake your tail at," mused the brindle cow.

"How?" asked the family horse.

"Today for the seventh time I let one of these new women get almost to the fence before I realized she wasn't a man."—Detroit News.

Mr. Shore-y (sagaciously)—That depends entirely on whether you are looking for them in their natural element or in a modern chowder.—New York Journal.

Deceived by Sound.

"I believe," said the candidate, "that my country calls me."

"If you are alluding to that noise you hear just now," said the old farmer, "you are somewhat mistaken. It's war nuthin but the ole mule a-brayin in the lot."—Atlanta Constitution.

"As much as he thinks he knows before or after the nomination?"—Chicago Post.

Of Course He Fled.

"Spreader didn't stay long this year in that charming country place he discovered last summer."

"No. There had been a girl there giving the landlady painting lessons in exchange for board."—Chicago Record.

Taking Turns.

"It's my treat tonight," said the summer youth as he bought the ice cream for the girls on the piazza.

"That's all right," said the doctor. "I will treat tomorrow."—New York Journal.

Mr. L. A. Rocher is a farmer residing about three miles out of Colon, N. C. His home is somewhat in the back woods. In an interview with Mr. S. T. Godfrey, a correspondent of the Telegram and Sunday Times, Mr. Rocher on the 17th of June, 1895, said: "I am 61 years of age, and until I was high onto fifty years old, I was always well and peart, then for a long while and until last February, I suffered with indigestion and could not eat anything hardly at all. My daughter, who lives in the city, sent me some of Ripans Tabules, told me how to take them, and and they have completely cured me. My wife is now troubled with the same complaint, and has written daughter to send some more of Mr. Ripan's medicine. I want you to tell everybody how I got cured, for it is a blessing to humanity."
(Signed) L. A. ROCHER.

Ripans Tabules are sold by druggists, or by mail if the price 50 cents a box is sent to the Ripans Chemical Company, No. 10 Spruce St., New York. Sample vial 10 cents.

The building papers are 1, 2, 3, and 4 ply. They come in rolls, each roll containing 1000 square feet. They are water proof, acid and alkali proof and vermin proof. A house lined with building paper is far cooler than one that is not. There is also a cheaper grade of paper adapted for use under matting keeping out insects.

HONOLULU, July 20th, 1895.

MESSES: W. G. IRWIN & Co., LTD.

GENTLEMEN:—In reply to your inquiry as to how the Ideal Roof Paint you sold me lasted: I would say that I painted the roof of my house 12 months ago with your Red Ideal Roof Paint and I find it is as fresh and bright in appearance today as when first applied looking as well as others lately painted with other paints. I am more than satisfied.

J. G. ROTHWELL.

Have you a leaky gutter? If you have, make it perfectly clean and dry, apply a good coat of No. 3 P. & B. Paint over the leaky spots; then take a piece of stout Manila paper, or a piece of common cotton cloth, paint it well on both sides; lay it over the first coat, giving the whole a final coat, and there will be no more leak there. Or if the whole gutter is bad, make it clean and dry, and apply a paste of P. & B. Paint and Portland Cement.
